Discussion Guide

Let's review

At the start of each discussion, review the conversation ground rules for returning and new members alike to set the stage for active participation by all. You may want to use a timer as you go around the room. And don't forget to decide who will take notes and post a discussion recap.

- Be open and curious: Everyone has a unique perspective, so be prepared to hear a different point of view. Listen first, and focus on the facts.
- Be respectful and engaged: Be sure that everyone has a chance to speak before adding a second comment or perspective. Encourage each other's participation.
- Be focused and concise: Keep the conversation centered on the issue and the brief.

The "Table-it" Rule: If the group has gone off-topic but the area is of interest, the group can table the conversation and save it for another time to be addressed in a different manner.

Let's begin

- Take five minutes to walk through the brief. Highlight the main point of each section and key statistics.
- Each member is invited to answer the following questions in a two-three minute reaction to the brief:
 - Introduce yourself, and share what "lens of care" did you wear when reviewing this brief (e.g. personal, professional, community, state, nation, global)?
 - What did you find most interesting or surprising from reading the brief? What matters?

Spread the word: facts to share during your discussion

- In 2018, nearly 45 million immigrants lived in the U.S., making up about 14% of the population. Data from different sources indicates the number of unauthorized immigrants living in the U.S. could be anywhere from 10 million to 20 million.
- Annually, the U.S. issues more than 1 million green cards. In 2018, only 13% were skills-based for employment purposes, 14% were for refugees, and 64% were for familial connections.
- In 2017, 29 million immigrants were working or looking for work in the U.S., comprising 17% of the total civilian labor force.
- As of December 2020, of the over 42,000 cases completed of the Migrant Protection Protocol, only 638 people were allowed entry into the country. The latest statistics indicate a backlog of over 1 million total cases pending in immigration courts.

Let's discuss

Below are 3 questions for the group to consider and discuss, or choose your own.

- Community: What is the right level of immigration for our country, and how does this look at the community level?
- Government: Do illegal immigrants have a right to government-funded education or healthcare? Why or why not?
- Business: How are business owners affected by immigration policy? What about immigrants who need certain licenses (such as a driver's license) to complete their work?

Let's act

1. Take it local. Talk to your neighbors to understand how immigration affects your community. Identify opportunities to work with other community members in your area.
2. Explore the impact of immigration policies in your community. Search for your state's laws on Ballotpedia, or see if your county or nearby cities are sanctuary jurisdictions.
3. Investigate community programs in your state or municipality. On your state or municipality website, look for a dropdown menu or tab labelled "citizen resources," "community," or "families."
4. Research your elected representatives' positions on immigration, and their vision for how to tackle immigration-related challenges facing Americans and your community. You can find contact information for federal, state, and local government officials here. Your state or municipality's websites will also have information to contact leaders. Try looking at the drop-down menu for a Government tab.
5. Establish a relationship with your legislators. It's easy to establish a relationship with your legislators. Start by introducing yourself. You can also learn to write to your representatives or set up a meeting with a legislator on The Policy Circle website.
6. Consider writing a letter to the editor or an op-ed on your stance on immigration policy in your local paper. Learn how on The Policy Circle website.
