Responding to Refugee Crises

Discussion Guide

Let's review

At the start of each discussion, review the conversation ground rules for returning and new members alike to set the stage for active participation by all. You may want to use a timer as you go around the room. And don't forget to decide who will take notes and post a discussion recap.

- Be open and curious: Everyone has a unique perspective, so be prepared to hear a different point of view. Listen first, and focus on the facts.
- Be respectful and engaged: Be sure that everyone has a chance to speak before adding a second comment or perspective. Encourage each other's participation.
- Be focused and concise: Keep the conversation centered on the issue and the brief.

The "Table-it" Rule: If the group has gone off-topic but the area is of interest, the group can table the conversation and save it for another time to be addressed in a different manner.

Let's begin

- Take five minutes to review the Executive Summary for this brief. Highlight the main point of each section and key statistics.
- Each member is invited to answer the following questions in a two-three minute reaction to the brief:
 - Introduce yourself, and share what "lens of care" did you wear when reviewing this brief (e.g. personal, professional, community, state, nation, global)?
 - What did you find most interesting or surprising from reading the brief? What matters?

Spread the word: facts to share during your discussion

- In May 2022, the UN estimated there are 100 million forcibly displaced people worldwide, representing 1% of the global population. This includes refugees, asylum seekers, and 53.2 million people displaced inside their country's borders by conflict
- Since the enactment of the Refugee Act of 1980, over 3.7 million refugees have resettled in the U.S. In FY2021 (Oct 2020 Sept 2021), 11.411 refugees resettled in the U.S. and immigration courts decided 24,000 asylum cases.
- Shutdowns due to COVID-19 have exacerbated existing backlogs: USCIS faced a backlog of almost 400,000 cases as of the mid-2021, and immigration courts faced a backlog of over 670,000 cases as of 2022.

Let's discuss

Below are 3 questions for the group to consider and discuss, or choose your own.

- Community: How are refugees welcomed or integrated into your community (economically, socially, in public education)?
- Government: Are local representatives particularly involved in addressing incoming refugees?
- Business: How are business owners affected by policies affecting the integration of refugees? What about refugees who need certain licenses to complete their work?

Let's act

- 1. Take it local. Talk to your neighbors to understand how policies affecting refugees impacts your community. Identify opportunities to work with other community members.
- 2. Explore the impact of refugee policies in your community. Search for your state's laws related to refugee admissions on Ballotpedia.
- 3. Investigate community programs in your state or municipality. On your state or municipality website, look for a dropdown menu or tab labeled "citizen resources," "community," or "families." Find organizations and resettlement agencies in your state.
- 4. Research your elected representatives' positions on refugee admissions, and their vision for how to tackle immigration-related challenges facing Americans and your community. You can find contact information for federal, state, and local government officials here. Your state or municipality's websites will also have information to contact leaders. Try looking at the drop-down menu for a Government tab.
- 5. Establish a relationship with your legislators. It's easy to establish a relationship with your legislators. Start by introducing yourself. You can also learn to write to your representatives or set up a meeting with a legislator on The Policy Circle website.
- 6. Consider writing a letter to the editor or an op-ed on your stance on refugee admissions and related policies in your local paper. Learn how on The Policy Circle website.

Next Steps for Your Circle

- Post a Recap: Summarize your discussion to share thoughts with members not present, and share planned actions from group members. Designate who will post a meeting recap on your circle page.
- Decide your next meeting topic. Want to discuss a related brief at your next meeting? Suggestions include:
 - Foreign Policy: Asia Pacific
 - Foreign Policy: Middle East
 - Human Trafficking
- Dive Deeper into the issues. If this is an area you would like to pursue further, consider taking possible steps to influence policy. The Policy Circle offers resources for developing a message about your issue and organizing a petition to amplify your voice and raise awareness. Don't miss our latest events that help you dive deeper on this issue and more.
